

Systems Engineer - UNIX

Provide support to the Technology Services and Support Department with the installation, configuration and testing of the SUN Solaris operating system and hardware. They will be responsible for creation of, maintenance of, procedures for installation, configuration and Disaster Recovery of the servers. This also includes upgrades, and patches to the existing software, with assistance from other department members as needed. Also responsible for first line problem resolution for the SUN hardware. They will work closely with other departments on all current and new projects on hardware/software requirements.

Essential Functions:

- Experience with configuration, and maintenance of SUN Solaris versions 8, 9, and 10
- On call rotation with others in the department

Experience:

- 2-3 years in a support role or equivalent work experience

Specialized Knowledge and Skills:

- Working to intermediate knowledge of SUN Solaris or other UNIX software, SUNONE applications, XML, JAVA Language, JAVA SDK, JAVA runtime engines, and SUN Hardware
- Working to intermediate knowledge of Clustering concepts, Clustering software, and Oracle installation a plus
- Working Knowledge of TCP/IP, LAN, WAN, Ethernet, FTP, and Internet protocols
- Working knowledge of Oracle client installation, configurations and testing
- Interact with vendors, and developers as necessary for applications, hardware
- Working knowledge of Shell programming
- Demonstrate strong problem solving, analytical and communications skills
- Ability to work independently and with others
- Provide department management with status reports on all assigned work
- Effectively communicate with users and department management regarding status and progress of assigned work

Education:

- Associate/Bachelor degree or equivalent work experience can be substituted

Work Conditions:

- Work Week: 40 Hours
- Overtime: As needed
- Salary: Exempt
- Ability to lift 25 lbs. Or more when required

To apply for this position, send your resume and cover letter with salary expectations to Systems Engineer - UNIX in the subject line).